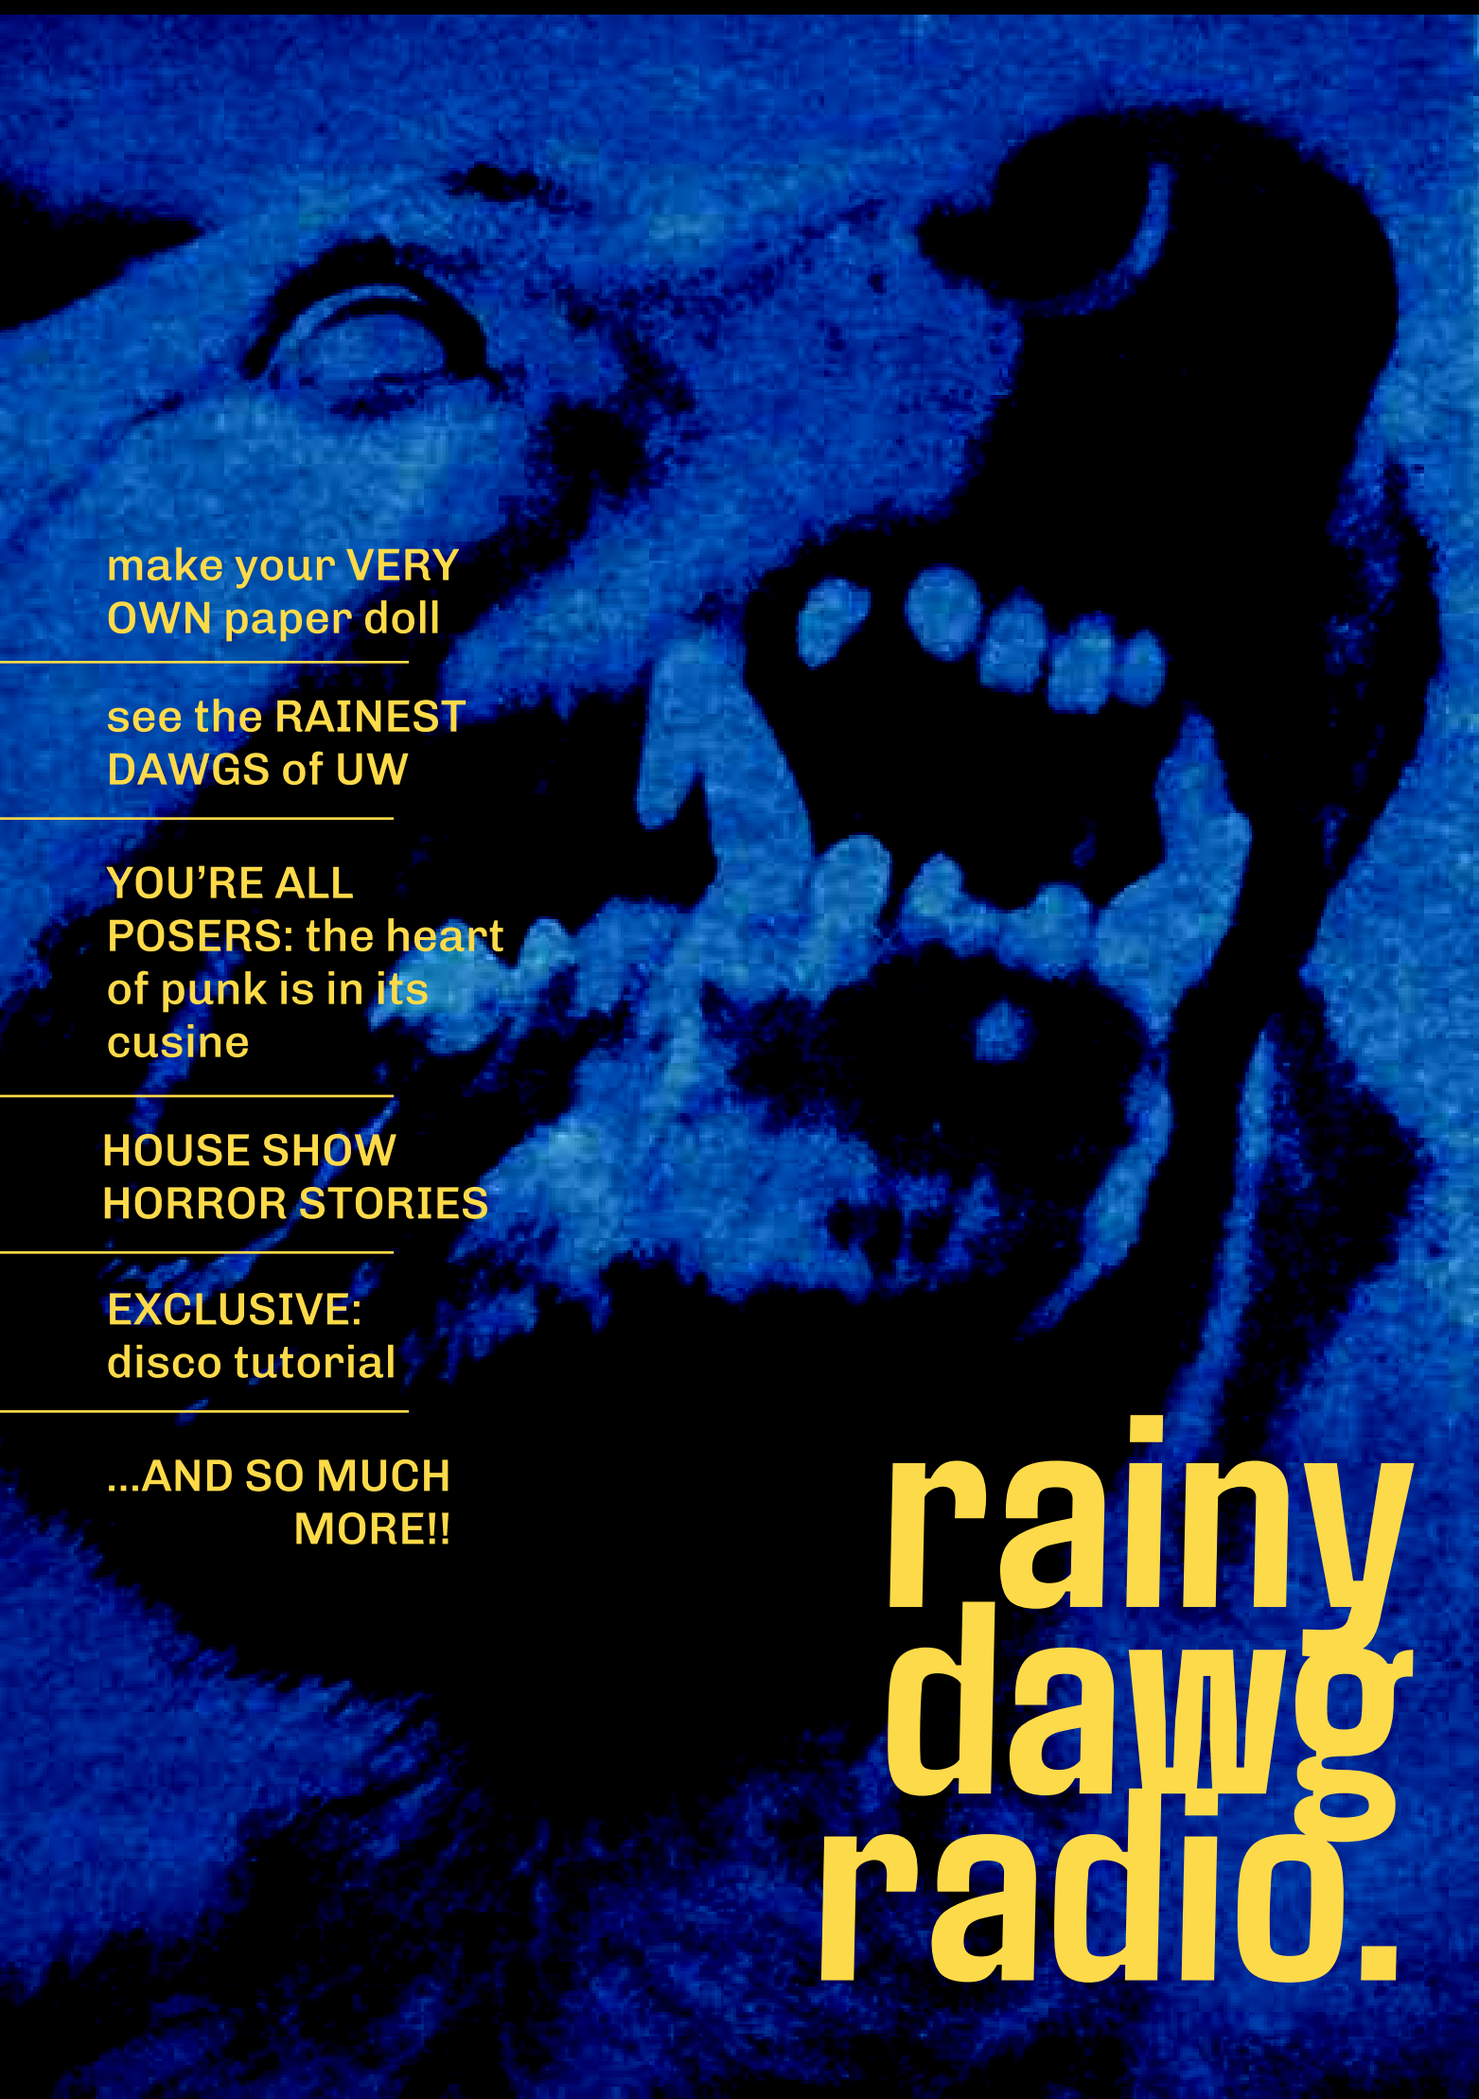
2026 2026 2026



make your VERY OWN paper doll

see the RAINEST DAWGS of UW

YOU'RE ALL POSERS: the heart of punk is in its cusine

HOUSE SHOW HORROR STORIES

EXCLUSIVE: disco tutorial

...AND SO MUCH MORE!!

rainy dawg radio.

TABLE OF CONTENTS!

DEAR READER!

Welcome to the 2026 Rainy Dawg Radio Zine! All of us have worked so hard to bring you this eclectic mix of pages! Inside you will find a collection of writings, quizzes, advice columns, games, and more! We hope you enjoy and possibly discover something new! #RDR5ever made by miracahl!!!

-THE 2026 RDR ZINE TEAM!

CONTENTS!

Zine Committee Yearbook 1-2
How to Find New Music 3-4
Rainiest Daawgs 5
Five Reasons to Dump Spotify 6
Sound Engineering 7-8
Iranian Bands 9-10
Which RDR Show Are You? 11
Who is Gilles Peterson? 12
Codependent Aliens Seek Love Advice .. 3-14
So You Want to Be Goth 15-16
Punk Cuisine 17-18
What Music's Ingrained in Your Brain? ...19
Music Personality Quizzes 20-22
My First Gig 23-24
Seattle's Finest Posters 25
Every DIY Show Poster Ever 26
RDR Ad Break! 27-28
If the Shoe Fits! 29-30
Humans of RDR 31-34
Missed Connections 35
The Dawg Decree 36
B-Day Fest! 37-38
Album Cover Puzzles 39-40
Music on the Ave 41-42
Storytelling Through Song 43-44
RDR Dawg Posters 45-46
Seattle Symbols Collage 47
Secrets from a Girl 48
Habibi Funk and Siberian Punk 49-50
diyordie 51
Paper Dolls 52-53
Studio Graffiti 54
Signature Page 55
How to Disco 56

RAINY DAWG RADIO

ALESSANDRO

PAL
DJ MOTHRA

DJ PRESSPLAY

DJ GABI

DJ EMMA

MUGDHA
DJ MUGCHI

KARINA

DJ BECKETT

DJ MAILE

DAVID

HANNAH

SEBASTIAN

LYDIA

JJ

LIV

ZINE

DJ CALISTA

CHINYERE

MARGO

TRINITY

MARCUS

JULIA

ZOLA

EMILY
DJ EVALDAWG

JOHNNY

MARIA

KYLA
DJ GINGERFREAK

BENJAMIN

HAYDEN

ANNA

SEBASTIAN

MARA

STAFF

how do you

READ NOTES UNDER ALBUMS

streaming

...but not just discover!!

also...

find rabbitholes, share with friends, listen to your fav artists' public playlists

internet crate digging

- → get on bandcamp (scroll new & notable)
  - → and try nina protocol
- → cool websites
  - → Music Map
  - → Every Noise at once
  - → last.fm
  - → sh!

follow record labels

i like...

- → numero group
- → drag city
- → brownswood
- → lita
- → superior viaduct

TRY MYSTERY

physical media

- → check yr parents' old CDs + vinyls
- → go to record stores!! talk to the staff
  - Sonic Boom
  - neptune
  - easy street

find NEW MUSIC

outside

- → house shows, local music
- → ask your friends
- → cafes
- → people in bands
- → concerts (really pay attention to the opener)

OUTPUT

(social) media

- → instagram accounts, i like @outsidenoise444
- → music docs, movies, forums (reddit, sputnik music)

critics + rating

- → AOTY
- → Metacritic
- → RYM.. maybe
- → music zines
  - stereogum
  - the wire
  - razorcake
  - mrr
  - the quietus
  - gimmie zine

AND AFTER CHECK OUT MXCLOUD, KEXP, WORLDWIDE FM, NTS RADIO

RAINY DAWG RADIO

RAINY EST DAWGS

AT UW!

name: offer (one that i can't refuse) age: 4 years old
fun fact: from korea

name: dasie
age: 2 years old fun fact: likes to blow bubbles

name: coco age: 4 months old fun fact: likes to bite oreo

name: gizmo
age: 3 years old
fun fact: not a dog...?

name: oreo age: 4 ½ years old fun fact: great swimmer

name: bella
age: 10 years old fun fact: has been to 38 states

name: reggie age: 12 years old
fun fact: has a curly tail

BY BECKETT

5 Reasons To Dump Spotify Before This Summer And Start A New St(r)eamy Relationship

1. He doesn't want what's best for you

Journalist Liz Pelly reports CEO Daniel Ek as saying "Apple Music, Amazon, these aren't our competitors. Our only competitor is silence." Does that sound like someone that respects your sanity?

2. He isn't a generous lover

Spotify is known to be extremely stingy with its payouts to musicians. You cool with that?

3. He hasn't been very thoughtful recently

From letting ICE recruit to investing in Israeli military drone tech, Spotify has been showing its true colors. Red flag?

4. He doesn't even like music very much anyways

From promoting bland algorithms to allowing AI artists, Spotify doesn't really seem to share the values you maybe thought it did.

5. Leaving is so much easier than you think

Your ex may still have a few of your records, but you can migrate playlists, favorites,etc.
What exactly are ya sticking around for?

Pick up Mood Machine by Liz Pelly at a library and turn over a new page on your streaming life. There are plenty of fish in the sea (Qobuz, our Radio Station, etc.)!

You've cancelled your subscription.

HOUSESHOW HORROR STORIES

I could tell you a horror story in just two words: Sound engineering. ~~OH DEAR!~~

What could I possibly mean by this? I decided to sit down with three prolific house show runners of the U-District area and ask them about some of their most frightening stories. Here's what I got:

by D.T. Seagull

Will (Marthas Vineyard)

Marthas Vineyard was one of the most iconic and long-standing house-show venues until it's unfortunate demolition this past February. Will and his roommates not only ran Marthas but played an integral role in supporting the thrive of the U-District DIY scene, hosting and giving start to a plethora of would-be Seattle punk and grunge legends, such as Zookraught, The Rat Utopia Experiment, Alex Vile, Midpak, and many more. Despite such scene influence and musical responsibilities, Will is one hell of a constant chiller, giving me a slew of odd stories that emphasize how normal chaos is in the house show and sound scene:

"One time at one of our shows our band started playing, and then the power amp (the big amp that powers the PA) exploded with a big cloud of nasty yellow smoke. Fortunately we had another system so it only took a few minutes to fix it. The most dramatic stuff is stuff that stops the whole show like a fire—once at the church basement the fire alarm went off, and the fire department came, then the show continued. A couple times we talked to cops. One of the cops really liked hardcore music and I later saw him at another show."

"Once one of the sound guys we had working with us had a meltdown, he was belligerently drunk. During my set he went onstage and stole the microphone I was using, like unplugged it and stumbled away ranting. Everyone was astonished, but I happened to have a microphone in my pocket! so we didn't even have to stop the song. so that turned into a great moment. I don't have any really cataclysmic failures... We always figured something out. Sometimes we used guitar amps for vocals."

Zack Leeb (The Ziggurat)

You may not know his name, but you sure as hell know his little noises. Zack is the front man of the venue/moving sound crew The Ziggurat, who have hosted local bands such as Animal Talk, Benevolent Soul, Fairweather Foes, and has run sound for an array of assembled bills, mobile house shows (such as the Kalypso), and desperate friends. Being such a haphazardly generous man, Zack has faced his fair share of tom foolery throughout his run as a sound guy. I asked him to tell me some stories and he provided a list:

"During one show, a neighbor came over to complain and told me they were moving to Bellevue to get away from all the house show noise. I offered earplugs to the poor sap and sent him on his way. We always follow the city noise ordinances to the T and send someone down the street to ensure we aren't too loud. I find it sad that some people take it upon themselves to thwart the virility and soul of their communities. There are so many real issues to pretend to be mad about! Don't make life more miserable for the rest of us!"

"At the first backyard show I hosted, things got a bit out of control in the house. Someone in line for the bathroom threw up twice in the hallway. It took us hours to get puke and mud out of the carpets afterwards. Worse still, some dumbass decided to spray their tag on my fence and sharpie it on the underside of the toilet seat. Additionally, several items were stolen: a pepper mill, a bottle of conditioner, my swiss army knife, and a single bite from an apple."

"Recently, I was running sound for a big show in Cowen Park. We had set up the whole PA system and were about to start sound checking, when Seattle's bravest police officers showed up to trounce the most vile criminal scum of the city (us)! We had to pack everything up and move to a new location an hour before the show was set to start. I would like to give a huge shoutout to Dillon and Martha's Vineyard for letting us use the backyard with zero notice!"

Rachel Hardy (stubtoe)

Rachel dick hardy (yes that is her actual middle name), is the freshest meat off the sound block these days. Hardy started her career this past summer alongside Leeb and the Ziggurat, though now is up to co-running the Ziggurat as well as her own show venue, Stubtoe House. Hardy can be seen at most shows whipping second-hand gear in a miniskirt like a sexy bob clearwater, though like any sound-guy, has had her run with the demons of technician-ship:

"The first time I ever ran a gig, I thought I was just there to help move sound equipment. Show up, turns out I was running the show! I spent hours trying to use all my high school theater tech knowledge, but I still couldn't get anything to work. Turns out we were trying to run the entire system on a 12V power supply. Much a scramble later we sourced a generator and finally got noise 30 minutes after the show was supposed to start. Shockingly it all worked out! And once things were operating honestly one of the calmer shows I've put on. started my sound engineering journey too!"

"Decided to run a two stage 6 hour festival off one facebook marketplace generator in Magnuson park with just a few people. We showed up for setup and the parking lot was full of cops! Since it was valentine's day there was an event next to where we were gonna set up, so we talked with them and they thought our event was so cool that we could just say we were under their permit when the cops asked. Show went beautifully! 14 bands, food and art vendors, many a beautiful folks!"

"when buying sound equipment off martha's vineyard, Will warned me the mixer I was buying had some problems due to a few drinks being spilled on it, but stilll was mostly working. Tested it at home and everything sounded fine, so I went to use it at a show, which was coincidentally also the first large outdoor house show I was running on my own. Everything worked well during sound check, but once the music started at the show feedback was screaming and I blew out a speaker and a mic. Luckily I had backups, and the crowd seemed to enjoy it, but indeed a night I will internally never recover from."

IRANIAN HARDCORE PUNK

DJ PRESSPLAY

The American regime is causing chaos and death to those overseas in Iran, Palestine, Lebanon, and others. There is a plethora of languages, cultures, and peoples that are indigenous to Iran that I want to shed some light on with these recent attacks. More specifically, we'll be going over the hardcore punk sounds that are coming from the Iranian diaspora. Resist fascism.

SIYAHKAL
Canadian based band with members of the Iranian diaspora, Siyahkal has just released one of their new songs off their upcoming album "Corrupt / فاسد." They have songs that are both in English and Farsi, one of the dominant languages of Iran. They sent out a message in an interview with uniteasia.org recently saying, "We cherish life even if they don't want to let us live it. Only in the moments when we are gathered together – when we get high, drunk, or dissociate – do we feel alive. All of those moments end with ... a sliver of hope that maybe one day we will be free. We owe this to the people that aren't here with us when the spring comes each year." Their new album will be releasing May 29th on Static Shock Records!
Instagram: @ siyahkal_stompers

Links for these bands and additional bands! Also a link for united4iran

TØF تُف\
An exciting young duo hailing from Amol, Iran with a recent EP released in March called “The Lethal Dosage Of What Was Everything,” this band is making waves in middle eastern hardcore circles. Their debut EP was released in 2024 called “Brain Damage in the Middle East” gained a lot of traction from various punk reporters, but this new album is also just as punchy and full of rage. The band's name means “Spit” in Farsi, symbolizing their resistance and spitting in the face of the Iranian government through their DIY endeavors. The group’s founder Kaaveh believes that punk is the most effective tool “to hit people with the truth and force them to think.” Their last EP had to be uploaded to Bandcamp by a friend right before the war started this year since the Internet has been cut off in Iran.
Instagram: @ kaaveh_saw

Mazandaran
All-Iranian band based in the UK, coming together not only to protest the Iranian government but to also celebrate their community and history. The band’s name is a reference to the area of north-central Iran of the same name, which loosely translates to “Devil’s Land.” This area holds a deep history with Iranian mythology, being mentioned in the Shahnameh, a historical epic poem from around the 8th-9th century, as the home of Divs (demons). There are many references to the Shahnameh throughout their music, especially the hero Rostam, who the band claims “has come to symbolize Iranian courage and identity.” But their self titled EP also deals with other issues of feeling estranged from their Iranian roots by living in the UK, pushing back against left-wing Europeans and North Americans who insert their opinions without understanding the full picture of Iranian identity and its complexities, and community building through fundraisers, rallies, and other forms of activism. Their last release was in 2023, so stay on the lookout for more music in the future.
Instagram: @ pedgeworldwide , qualitycontrolhq which RAINY DAWG RADIO! show are you?

by. Mara & Callie
(dj MARZ & dj calista)

What's your dream destination?
A) greece
B) the moon
C) RDR studio
D) the mariana trench

When do you feel most alive?
A) 4:32 pm
B) 7:27 am
C) 10:41 am
D) 11:59 pm

how often do you listen to rainy dawg radio?
A) never
B) once a month
C) when my friends are on D) 24/7

listen every day!

Pick a word/letter?
A) m
B) sacrilegious
C) c D) mellifluous

how long would you survive in a zombie apocalypse?
A) 4 minutes
B) till the end
C) I'm patient zero
D) until my phone dies

favorite one direction member?
A) harry
B) niall
C) louis D) zayne

pick a sock to make a puppet
A) white
B) striped
C) bright orange D) black

how do you hang/display your posters?
A) framed
B) painters tape
C) tacks
D) that blue sticky stuff that doesn't work

what type of lighting are you?
A) warm
B) fluorescent
C) cold
D) colored

you're buying a new rug, which one would you pick?
A) shaggy
B) patterned
C) scratchy
D) short

go to home invasion weapon?
(YOU are invading the home)
A) cast iron pan
B) nerf gun
C) kitchen knife
D) hairspray and lighter

you have a time machine, who are you meeting?
A) Karl Marx
B) Joan of Arc
C) Jesus
D) Britney Spears (specifically in 2003)

mostly A's Ripple Effect
Discard This Message run of show burned this 4 u
the forecast

mostly B's antagonist
vinyl vignettes Precisely This
distorted and disorderly cylinder seal

mostly C's back2mine
The Seagull
Tracing The Current
The Photo Booth
Genrefluids

mostly D's spice route
Under The Covers SPHERE OF INFLUENCE
What's Wrong With Jet City?
The HaloHaloHour

WHO IS GILLES PETERSON?

he's crazy good at spotting musical talent (let me tell you why!)

1980: INTRO TO PIRATE RADIO

BEGAN HIS DEBUT AS A DJ AT RADIO INVICTA, A PIRATE STATION!

WHY "PIRATE"? BBC WOULDN'T PLAY IT!! MEET THE DEMAND FOR POP AND ROCK (AND SOUL @ RADIO INVICTA)

PIRATES!! →

Booo!

1990: FOUNDS TALKIN LOUD

HIS OWN LABEL WITH A LEGENDARY ROSTER: 4HERO, THE CINEMATIC ORCHESTRA, GALLIANO, JAZZANOVA, MC SOLAAR, AND UFOOOOO (BIGGGGG NAMES)

go listen!! (yeah, you...)

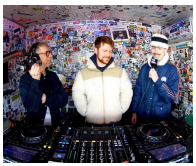
so, who really is this guy???

1998: WORLDWIDE FM DEBUT ON BBC RADIO 1

he's in GTA VI??

FROM THE UNDERDOG TO THE TOP OF THE FOOD CHAIN! PLATFORMS HIS UNIQUE RADIO STYLE: HIGHLIGHT THE ARTISTS!

Peterson bringing Donna and Alden live



when he had such a large media presence, he used it to highlight his favourite upcoming artists! Literally calling in or bringing them on air to talk about their music

SO MUCH OF THE MUSIC I PLAY ON MY SHOW, BACK2MINE, HAS SEEN HIS INFLUENCE BEFORE I EVEN KNEW IT

WHEN PEOPLE ASK, HOW DO I SPOT UP AND COMING ARTISTS BEFORE THEY HIT? TIME AND TIME AGAIN, HE SPOTS BIG NAMES BEFORE THEY EMERGE.

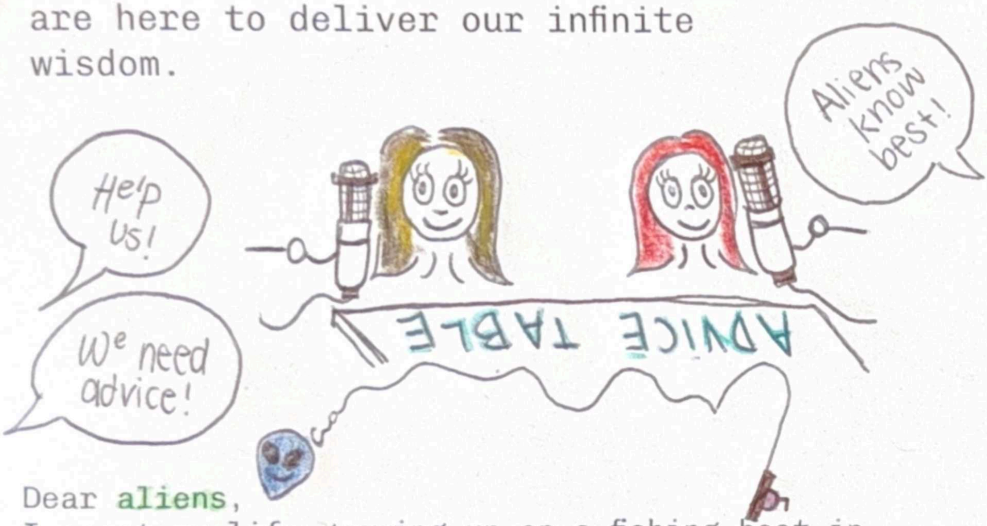
HIS RADIO SHOWS ALWAYS FOCUS ON THE PEOPLE AND THE SCENES, PLAYING MUSIC FROM ARTISTS WHO THEN COME ONTO THE SHOW TO TALK

HE IS A PERFECT TEMPLATE FOR HOW TO STAY RELEVANT, EVEN INTO HIS LATER YEARS

ALESSANDRO!

CODEPENDENT SPACE ALIENS SEEK LOVE ADVICE

For months, devoted listeners have rang into the show seeking the guidance of EMMA and GABI. Finally, we are here to deliver our infinite wisdom.



Dear aliens,
I spent my life growing up on a fishing boat in northern Maine. Now I feel like it's time to spread my wings and go to LA and try to be an actor. My father doesn't believe in my ability and wants me to stay in fishing to keep our family business going. What should I do? Give up on my dream or betray my families legacy?

zzz

Dear lonesome fisherman,
There comes a time in every man's life where he is ready for the sleepover; the first night away from one's parents, home, personal bed. Of course, it is a frightening path, one of tremendous uncertainty: what if they have different bed times than me, different snacks in the kitchen? Yet, one cannot forever wallow in their childhood sheets - there comes a day you must forge through the night. It seems it is time you pave a new family legacy, one where your dreams come to fruition; I doubt the fish will miss you too much.

Good luck!

My partner and I have been dating for six years. We first made love on senior prom and now have a cat, a shared apartment, and I have her name tattooed on my waistband. For all intents and purposes we are star crossed lovers destined for a life of domestic bliss. Yet, there is something I cannot continue to overlook: I hate her music taste. Every time we are in the car together I feel a pit in my stomach as she reaches for the aux cord to play ear screeching radio ballads in which she loudly sings along to. In the car, in the shower, humming to herself before bed, I can't take it any longer. Seeking help, xo.

Dear desperate lover,
Age makes the heart grow fonder and young love blinds the senses (particularly the ears). While it may have seemed long ago this person would be your forever doll, we often ignore our truest desires out of fear of the unknown. This is not to say you cannot remember her fondly, nor necessarily cover up a bad tattoo, but leaving often creates space for the next; possibly, a more sonicly pleasing romance. (Leave her immediately!!!)

My roommates and I are deep in the prank war - roommate warfare, one could say. It is getting heated (I no longer have a bed to sleep in at night). How do I prank my roommates in a way that won't deeply effect them? Where does one draw the line on pranks?

MUAHAHAHAHAHA!

Dear prankster,
Pranks are a delicate balance, capable of irrevocable damage or extraordinary laughs. The risk is one one of the greatest, and most rewarding parts. Yet, this is where the intimacy of an already established friendship comes to play. You must ask - would my friend find this funny, truly? Therein lies the answer.
xo, aliens.

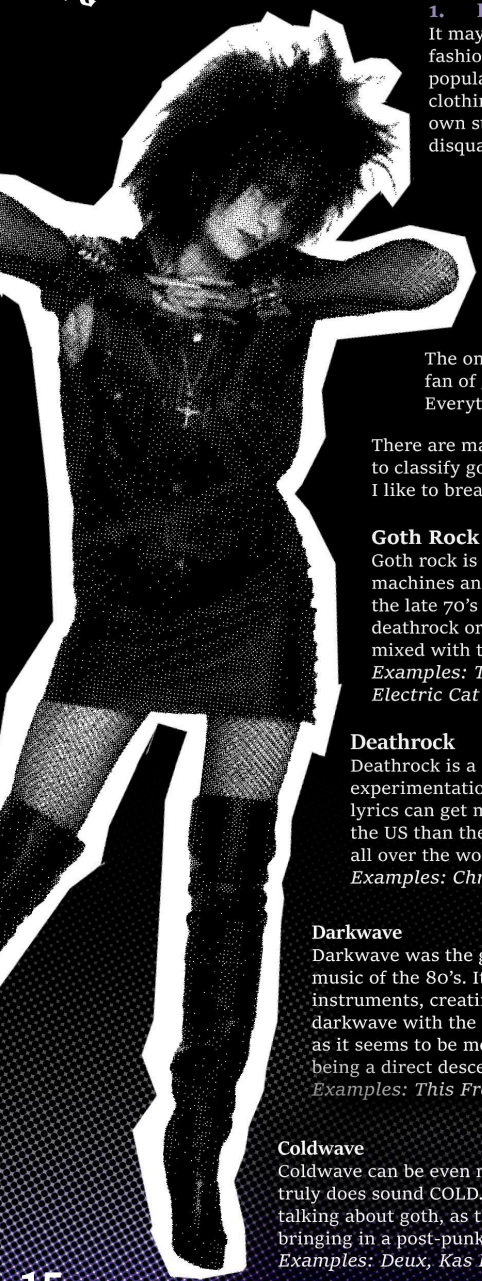
EVIL...

So You Want To Be Goth?

by luc

We get it. Goths are the original cool- more macabre than punks, less dramatic than emos, and the ultimate badge of alternative-ness.
So you want to be goth yourself? Let me be the first to tell you, you're already thinking about it too hard. And you're probably thinking about the wrong stuff too.

Don't listen to TikTok or Spotify's "Dark and Gothic" playlist, follow this easy beginners guide to figure out what being goth is really about.



1. Forget About Fashion

It may surprise you, but there actually isn't such a thing as "goth fashion" or "goth makeup". While certain styles of dress are popular with people in the goth community, there isn't any clothing that will instantly make you a goth. Everyone has their own style, and there are no dress codes that will qualify or disqualify you.

If you enjoy what is commonly labeled as "goth fashion" online, you may just be passionate about alternative clothing, and there's nothing wrong with that.

2. It's All About The Music

So how do you actually become goth, and avoid being a poser? It's very simple, actually.

The only thing you need to be part of the goth subculture is to be a fan of goth music! Goth, at its core, is a music based subculture. Everything that isn't the music is secondary.

There are many subgenres of music that make up what goth is. It's hard to classify goth as one type of sound, since the subculture is quite diverse. I like to break goth music into four subgenres:

Goth Rock

Goth rock is melodramatic, steady, and relies on instruments like drum machines and electric guitar. It's very British, and most goth bands from the late 70's and early 80's fall into this category. It's not as erratic as deathrock or calm as darkwave, but has a distinct classic rock ancestor mixed with the influence of punk and glam rock.
Examples: The March Violets, The Sisters of Mercy, Specimen, Big Electric Cat

Deathrock

Deathrock is a clear offshoot of punk, with a grittier, noisier sound and more experimentation to make it as grating as possible. Like the instrumentation, lyrics can get more shocking and hardcore. More deathrock bands came out of the US than the UK, but like any of these genres, there's deathrock bands from all over the world.
Examples: Christian Death, Acid Bats, 45 Grave, Altar De Fey

Darkwave

Darkwave was the goth counterpart to the growing new wave and synthwave music of the 80's. It relies heavily on synthesizers with incorporation of live instruments, creating a distant and mechanical feeling. I usually associate darkwave with the changes in goth happening around the turn of the century, as it seems to be mostly the product of previous goth genres rather than being a direct descendant of something else.
Examples: This Frozen Autumn, blood club, Cold Cave, Lebanon Han over

Coldwave

Coldwave can be even more synthesized than darkwave, incredibly minimalist and truly does sound COLD. French coldwave is what you're looking for when you're talking about goth, as that's what directly evolved out of darkwave while still bringing in a post-punk sensibility.
Examples: Deux, Kas Product, Asylum Party, Opéra de Nuit

Just like with anything in life, there's outliers for every subgenre and nothing is cut and dry. Many bands will overlap with several subgenres, and none would be a bad way to categorize them. There's also some smaller- but not unimportant- genres like etherealwave (Cocteau Twins, Clair Voyant) and minimalwave, (This Cold Night, Martin Dupont), which people often debate if they're part of goth at all, but most bands who fall into these debatable categories can also be classified as something else.

The more you listen to the big four above, the better you will be able to distinguish the subgenres and classify certain bands. Still, there's no need to argue the semantics like whether a band is more darkwave or coldwave. HOWEVER, it's important to know there are some genres that are absolutely NOT goth, no matter what.

Some genres that are commonly mistaken for goth include:

- Industrial
- Gothic Metal
- Black Metal
- New Wave
- Synthwave
- Shoegaze
- Any Emo Subgenre (screamo, emocore)
- Punk

Many of these genres influenced goth subgenres, goth subgenres evolved from them, or maybe they themselves were influenced by goth, but they're not considered part of the goth subculture. People who like goth music may also enjoy these genres, but there isn't overlap.

Goth music can be hard to get into at first, but the subgenres are so diverse it would be hard not to find something you like. Maybe you've already heard goth music! Some staples of the 80's like The Cure and Siouxie and The Banshees are considered some of the main pillars of goth!

3. Nazi Goths Fuck Off

Being a direct descendant of the punk movement, goth holds the same leftist beliefs and stands against bigotry. Racism, sexism, homophobia, sexism, etc. In every alternative subculture, there are people who believe that being against the mainstream means they can openly be hateful or shocking. However, upholding bigotry is upholding the very things the mainstream is built upon, and you'll be quickly removed from any community events you try to interact with.

Being part of goth means being for change in the world, treating everyone with equity, and keeping your mind open to reexamining your beliefs and biases. You don't have to be a perfect person, but goth or not, you should always want to improve and help others.

4. It's A Community Effort

While it's true I've spent a significant portion of my life sitting alone in my room listening to goth music, it's undeniable that the goth subculture is kept alive by people gathering to enjoy music together. Since the start of the movement, goth clubs like The Batcave have been giving people a place to gather, make connecFeys, and be inspired. If you can, keep an eye out for goth events, such as goth nights at clubs and venues, goth bands or performers playing, or similar community events. Everything is always better with friends.

Conclusion

Ultimately, there is no wrong or right way to be goth. Like with any group or club, people just want you to be respectful, kind, and open minded. Thinking about how to "become" a goth or what "rules" to follow is the wrong way to think about it. If you are legitamately interested in the music and are willing to be an equitable community participant, you will have everything you need.

People take "being" goth far too seriously. They act like it's some sort of badge you have to actively maintain and let influence every aspect of your life. The modern day idolization of goth is pretty much false, and you should never let the desire to be accepted into a group blind you as to who you really want to be, or change yourself to fit into a false definition. Please, none of this is such a big deal! Everything you truly enjoy should be for fun! Just remember to be willing to learn, and everything will be okay.

If anyone has any questions, or wants some goth music recommednations, please feel free to talk to me!

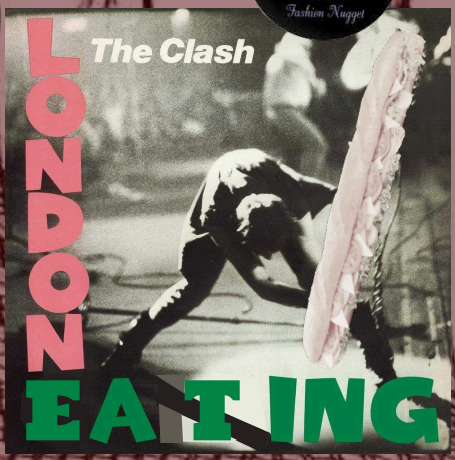
PUNK ★ CUISINE

a manifesto/ recipe book

by sebastian hoffman (dj geryon)

If you're the sort of person who reads student radio zines you've probably been exposed to endless internet debates around what "punk" means. Is punk defined by music? By leftist politics? By a visual style?

As a self-appointed authority I'm here to settle this debate. The truth is, punk isn't about house shows, or poorly painted acrylic patches, or the public library, it's about a spirit: a spirit that belongs to a time and a place that doesn't really exist anymore.



If you want to experience this spirit you need to look beyond consumption-based group signifiers and aesthetics divorced from their original contexts. The only true way to revive this spirit is through the world of cuisine. Lucky for all you posers I have assembled a tasting menu for you to savor the flavor of what is truly punk.

RECIPES

DRINK & STARTER

Beer that I Found in the park & 1 Vitamin D Supplement

This is Seattle: the Vitamin D speaks for itself. For the beer, prowl around any place where be-JNCO'd teenagers can be found and scan the grass for treasures.

ENTREE

Nut Brick

Wand to add some international flair to your meal rotation and pay tribute to punk's British roots? My English friend Annie recommends bulk buying nuts and grinding them into dust, before adding a binding agent (vegan yogurt works great) and allowing the concoction to settle in the fridge. Consume at any temperature, in any quantity, with any — or no — utensils.

The conniving Englishwoman wouldn't provide a visual, so just imagine if this was food.

DESSERT

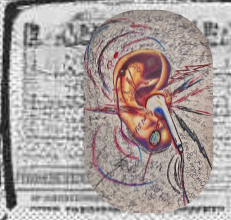
Steal from your roommate.

Rifle through the cabinet where your roommate keeps their niche Trader Joe's snacks, and take whatever you want. Personal favorites include individual squares of dark chocolate and hummus with any thin carbohydrate.

Live DJ Mothra (my roommate) reaction

What Music's Ingrained in Your Brain?

Everyone has music they grew up with that's important to their music taste now.
What artists do you always return to?
What makes a song nostalgic for you?

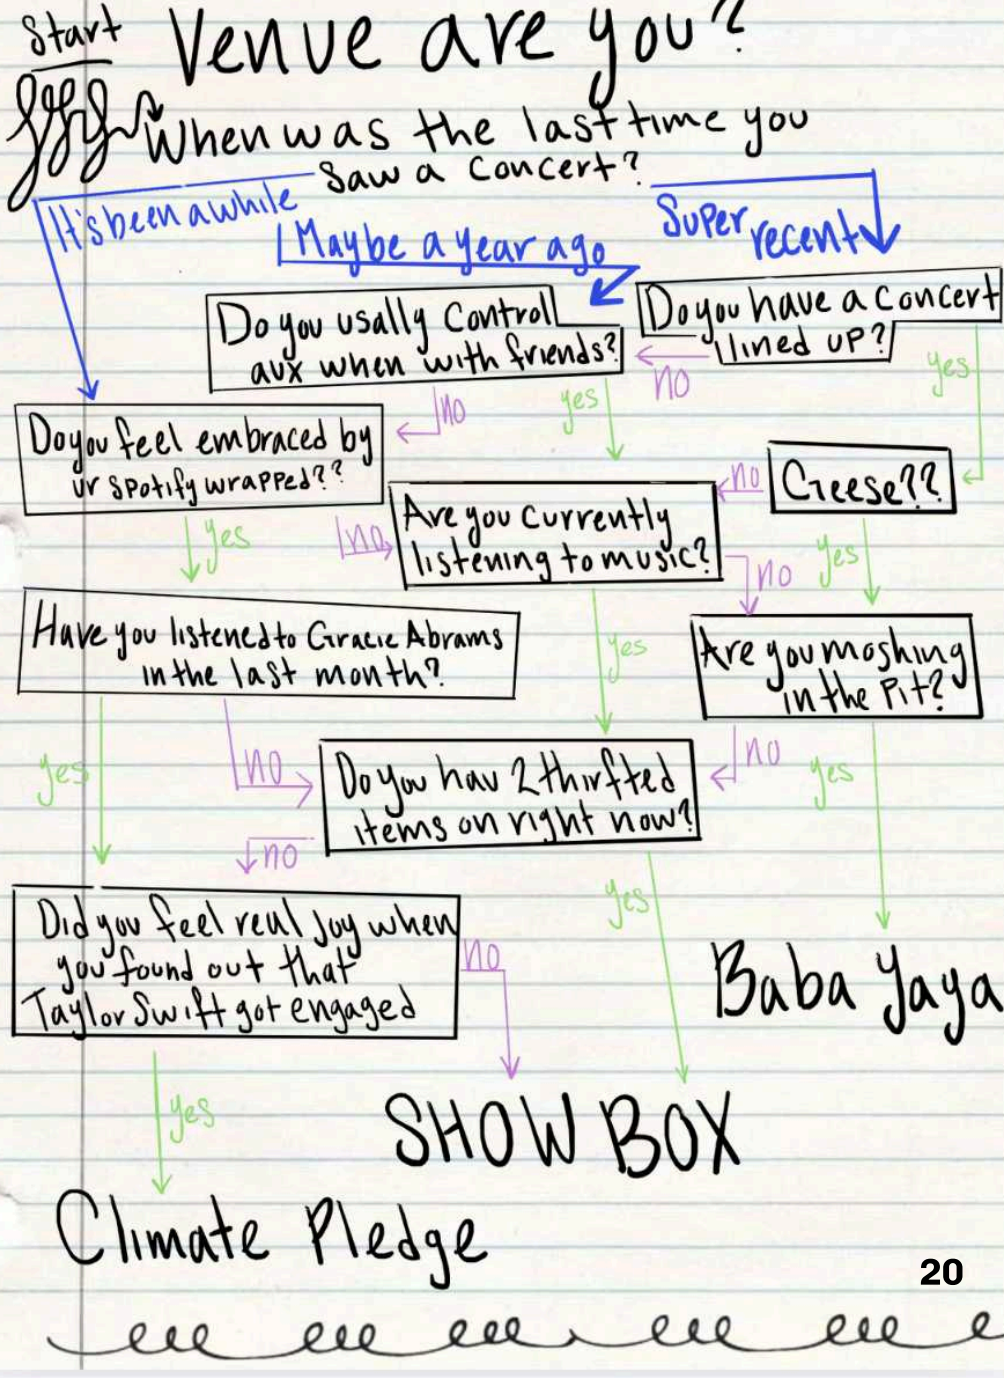


I remember one time my dad played "Once in a Lifetime" by The Talking Heads in the car. At the time, I didn't understand the lyrics or why my dad cared about them.

Now, every time I hear The Talking Heads, I think of long car rides with my dad.

What does it even mean when your brain feels certain songs are nostalgic?
Find out what music other people hold dear;
Read more on the Rainy Dawg Radio Blawg!

What Seattle Concert Venue are you?



Start
When was the last time you saw a concert?
It's been awhile
Maybe a year ago Super recent
Do you usally Control aux when with friends?
Do you have a concert lined up?
Do you feel embraced by ur Spotify wrapped??
Are you currently listening to music?
Cheese??
Have you listened to Gracie Abrams in the last month?
Are you moshing in the Pit?
Do you hav 2 thrifted items on right now?
Did you feel real joy when you found out that Taylor Swift got engaged Baba Yaga
SHOW BOX Climate Pledge
yes
no

What New York Band Are You?

What Genre of Music are you?

START

If you could only bring 1 thing to a deserted island, what would it be?

A Cigarette

Do you get an adrenaline rush from committing petty crime?

yes

NO

Do you own 2 or more thermals?

yes

Do you perfer to listen to raspy men sing?

yes

Seattle Grunge

No

Do you like Adidas?

No

Do you believe that Morris is just misunderstood?

yes

No

Did you try to get Oasis tickets?

yes

BritPop

A bad attitude

Wired headPhones

Do you know who SOPHIE is?

yes

Do you often see dancing videos on your FYP?

yes

Have you ever seen Lorde or Chari XCX live?

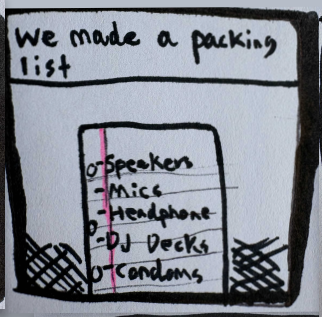
No

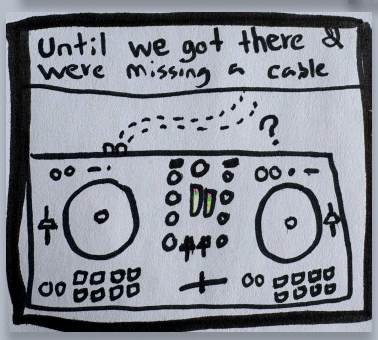
Yes

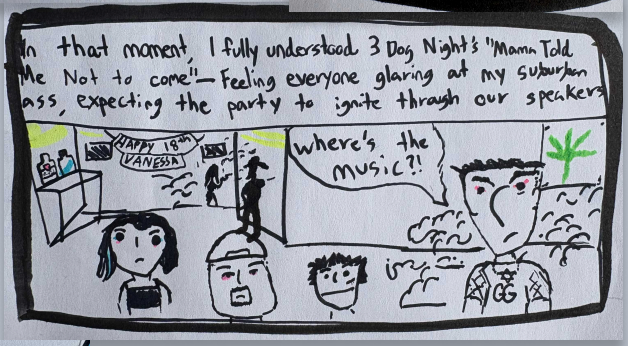
Pop Girls

My First Gig

BY DJ MAESTRO

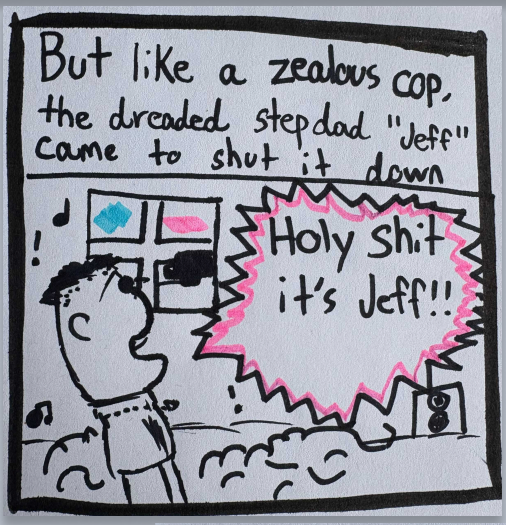






In that moment, I fully understood 3 Dog Night's "Mama Told Me Not to come"— Feeling everyone glaring at my suburban ass, expecting the party to ignite through our speakers
HAPPY 18th VANESSA
where's the music?!

Seeing all these people dancing together united by the 120 bpm pulse ignited my love for DJ'ing



But like a zealous cop, the dreaded stepdad "Jeff" came to shut it down Holy Shit it's Jeff!!

I left with messy cuples, a snapchat, and a passion lasting life

IHOP
We ended the night with late night IHOP, which would be the first of one of my favorite post-performance traditions.

SEATTLE!!! YOUR POSTERS ARE TOO DAMN SILLY

FOUND BOOK OF STREET POETRY

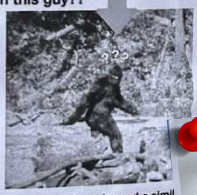
Did you lose your notebook full of poetry/rap lyrics? I found it on the street. This notebook contains ~50 pages of work and I'd like to get it back to its owner. Please email me at foundyournotebookonthesidewalk@gmail.com if it belongs to you or someone you know.

ALSO

Have you seen this guy??

He is a asshole !

This dude came into my apartment, rolled himself a joint from MY stash, and proceeded to raid my fridge/ pantry. He ate all of my chickpeas. He then clogged my toilet and just fkn left!?!?



If you have seen this man, or have experienced a simil please email me with any info you have at stopbigfoot@gmail.com

KICKBOXING for SENSITIVE TEENS

a supportive martial arts practice that helps teens (ages 12 - 16) to transform stress, overwhelm, and anxiety into resilience, confidence, and a deeper sense of belonging

PRANK MURALS

We did a prank mural for our roommate and it turned out really well

• It looks a lot like this picture of our roomma

• She was really pranked

We thought we couldn't paint but turns out we're really good

HIRE US TO PRANK YOUR FRIENDS

...will paint your roommate's face on your apartment wall while ...re not home

...y $100 even though our work is probably priceless

...e prank is roughly 3ft wide

...deposit

BECOME A SPERM DONOR!

Top 3 Reasons to Start Donating

- Earn $100 per Donation
- Help Someone Realize the Dream of Starting a Family
- Receive Free Health Screenings and Genetic Testing

If you're 18-30 ...

URGENTLY HIRING BOYFRIEND

Requirem...

hey you!

...d of a.i. slop everywhere?!?

us too!

...e play some handcrafted in-development ...by a few weirdos in your community come to:

TESTING CLUB

...ilter (good!)

AI filter enabled (bad)

...s Hop Shop
...ntral District)
...pm-9pm
...2nd tuesday
...month

NEW

Stoup Brewery 6pm-9pm
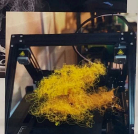
every 4th Wednesday of the month

IS YOUR 3D PRINTER HAUNTED?

Bring Your 3d printer or any haunted prints. Feel free to bring snacks. I will bring crystals to trap up to 8 spirits



JOIN THE SÈANCE TO BANISH THE SPIRITS CAUSING YOUR 3D PRINTER TO MISBEHAVE

1PM APRIL 25th 2026
CARKEEK PARK FIRE PIT
SEATTLE

If you have any energy imbalances, be careful of excised spirits taking over your body, please protect yourself

"done this before and it works"

Email for questions:
zeitlich@gmail.com

title is always this font DIY SHOW POSTER SLAUGHTERVOMIT
hardcore band that everyone came for KILL WORM
other hardcore band Jonathan Rose
random dude with guitar indie folk duo cus why not Small Robber
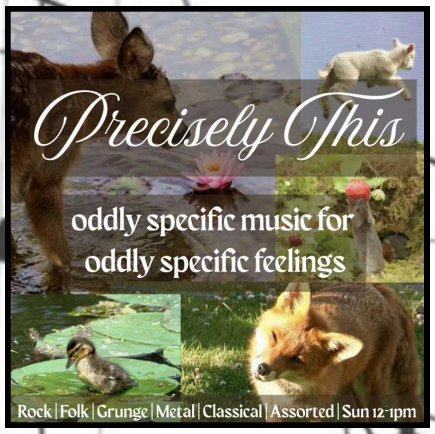
Kal & Mause
only goth band in the area
DOORS 3 | SHOW 7
AT STUPID POOP HOUSE
$20 ADV | $90 ATD
TACOMA FOR SOME REASON
the bands will start an hour later

bands featured on "whats wrong with jet city?" by beckett on rainy dawg radio



Precisely This
oddly specific music for oddly specific feelings
Rock | Folk | Grunge | Metal | Classical | Assorted | Sun 12-1pm

TRACING THE CURRENT
neo-soul,
jazz, rock,
reggae,
highlife,
funk, R&B, pop
SATURDAYS
2-3PM PST
DJ CHAUV
RAINYDAWGRADIO.COM

TORCH LIGHT with evaldawg alt rock, indie, new wave, emo, & beyond tuesdays 2-3pm only on rainydawg.org

Listen to genre fluids
MONDAY NIGHTS 10-11 pm listen @ rainydawg.org hosted by: DJ HONEYPOOL

goth | expirimental | new wave |
electronic | industrial | hardcore | saturdays 3-4 pm with dj mothra under the covers everything is everything else.

EMO. SCREAMO. POST-HARDCORE.
NEW ENGLAND DIY.
DISCARD
THURSDAYS 6-7 PM.
WITH FINN.

LISTEN ON RAINYDAWG.ORG

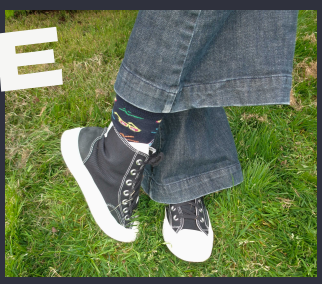
IF THE SHOE FITS!

BDAY FEST EDITION



julia (•ω•)

karina (>ᴗ<)

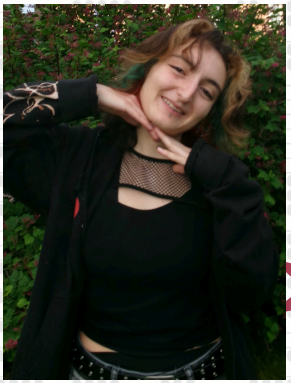
liv (^ᴖ^)

pal (^ ˘ ^)

emily (•₃•)

hayden(›ᴗ•)

ellie (•ᴗ•)



rosario (^ᗤ^)

lydia (>ᴖ<)

Answer Key

Shoe A - Lydia, Shoe B - Liv, Shoe C - Karina, Shoe D - Rosario, Shoe E - Pal, Shoe F - Hayden, Shoe G - Elite, Shoe H - Emily, Shoe I - Julia

made by miracahl!!!

humans of
rainy dawg radio

who are the dawgs beyond the radio?

if not in the studio hosting their set / writing their blawg post, the dawgs are most likely to be found...

crying into my CEE220 textbook

commentating games on twitch streams for esports going outside and stuff and mending clothes working at an elementary school doing afterschool care :)

helping out at a coastal ecology lab

playing bass in a band with my friends

reading and book club

being a beast at the goodwill bins

working on a production of Cabaret

what does rainy dawg radio mean to you?

something you do entirely unrelated to rdr?

match the improbable fact to the dawg

a. something irish (dance, obsessed w/ the country, etc.)
b. maxxed out on songs in a spotify playlist (10k!)
c. can't swim, despite lessons,
d. got two tattoos at seattle shows
e. slalom skier
f. played violin for 13 years
g. can do aerial skills
h. secretly british
i. amateur henna artist

1. alessandro
2. beckett
3. hannah
4. claudia
5. ducksalad
6. pal
7. julia
8. maile
9. larwynter
10. calista
11. mara
12. evaldawg
13. mugchi

answers:

a. 2, 3, 6
b. 7
c. 9
d. 12
e. 5
f. 8
g. 11
h. 1
i. 13

FLX4 , 3 hours deep X

I said "okay wait I think I got it this time" like eight times and until you finally leaned over and went "can I help?" You moved one knob, pressed one button, and suddenly everything made sense. I said "ohhh yeah I knew that" which was a lie we both understood. I will be thinking about this forever.

xo meilee !!!!

Peak Cherry Blossoms X

We both tried to take the same photo and stepped back at the same time. Neither of us got it. Still worth it.

Cane's Line around the block X

You said "this is part of the experience" like you believed it. I was the one checking the time every 30 seconds, then pretending not to care. We laughed when someone asked how much longer and no one had an answer. By the time we got to the front, it felt like we'd been through something together.

Rainy Dawg Couch X

You said "just resting my eyes" and fully knocked out. Everyone worked around you like you were part of the studio.

Compliments ⊙ DUB Street X

You ordered the Hellfire, I can see you like the spicier side of things.
Burgers on me next time?

MISSED CONNECTIONS

THE DAWG DECREE

what the hell are RDR DJs spinning?

Sept '25-'26 so far...

top songs

1. Samurai Sword- Goodnight, Whatever That Is
2. Saint Etienne- Spring
3. Wednesday- Elderberry Wine
4. Wednesday- Townies
5. Ninajirachi- iPod Touch
6. Jane Remover, Lucy Bedroque- Audiostalker
7. Loudon Wainwright III- The Swimming Song
8. Songs: Ohia- Farewell Transmission
9. Swirlies- Pancake
10. Talking Heads- This Must Be the Place
11. The Hellp- Here I Am
12. Wednesday- The Way Love Goes liv plays this song at the end of all their sets :3

top artists

1.
The Beatles

2.
Elliott Smith

3.

Wednesday

4.
Prince

5.
The Cure

6.
New Order

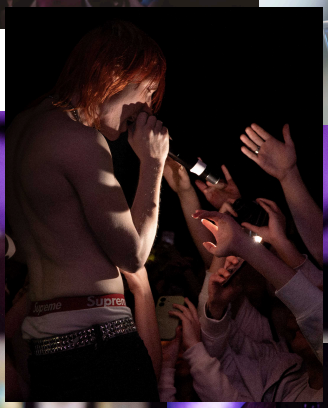
7.
Depeche Mode

8.
Magdalena Bay

photo: @shutter.fan
N3STER

photo: @shutter.fan
DUCKSALAD

photo: @shutter.fan



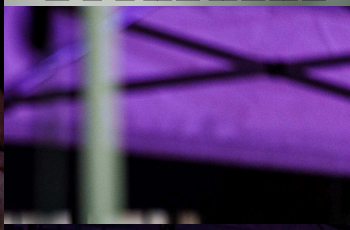


photo: @eliaswentmad

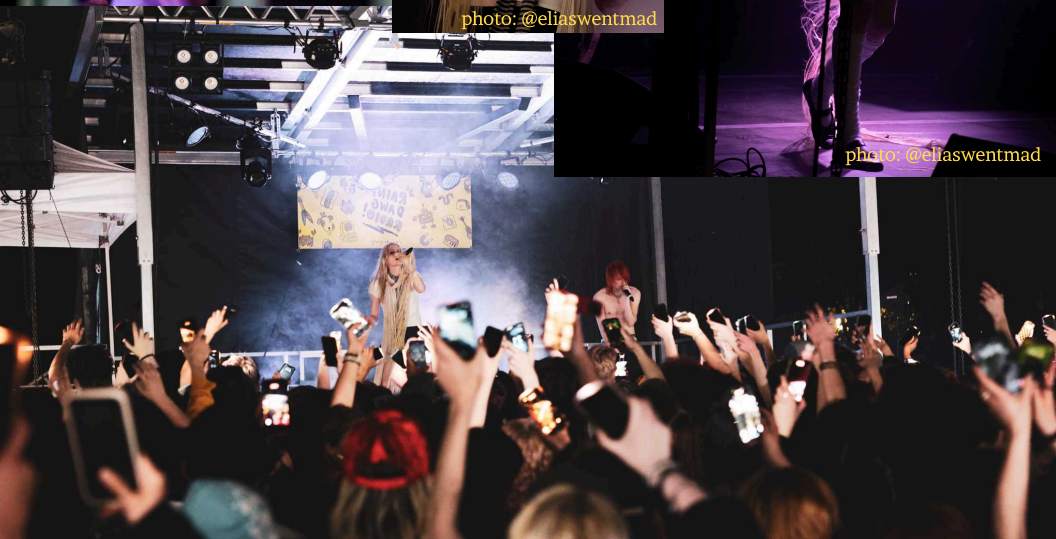
photo: @eliaswentmad



FROST CHILDREN!!!

photo: @eliaswentmad

RAINY DAWG RADIO TURNS 24!!

Bday Fest is: a celebration of Rainy Dawg with a curation of vendors, incredible live performances, and the coolest dawgs on campus all gathered in one spot. This year's event was our largest EVER, with one of Rainy Dawg's biggest headliners, FROST CHILDREN.

Some Huskies camped out on the barricade of the HUB lawn well before the event started. The evening kicked off at 8 p.m. with Rainy Dawg's own student DJ, DUCKSALAD, who got the crowd loose with an engaging, upbeat set.

Local Seattle quartet, N3ster, followed this, taking the stage with their self-proclaimed "indie guitar rock for beasts and bodybuilders," and keeping the crowd movin' as the sun went down.

The main event was none other than Frost Children, an explosive, genre-defying hyperpop sibling duo. Notable songs they played include "Bound2U," their remix of Ninajirachi's "F*ck My Computer," and, fittingly, their encore, "RADIO." Track after track left the whole crowd jumping, crowd-surfing, and dancing the night away. It was surreal to see our campus transform into such amazing concert grounds, just steps away from Rainy Dawg's studio. Thanks to the RDR staff and volunteers, this was a birthday we will never forget.

Special special thanks to Renee (our supervisor) Liv (our Music Director)and Lydia (our General Manager) who made this whole thing happen.

Error

oh no! my dog ate all of my favorite albums. :((can you help me rename them??

OK

*_hint__
letters that are highlighted are already in place

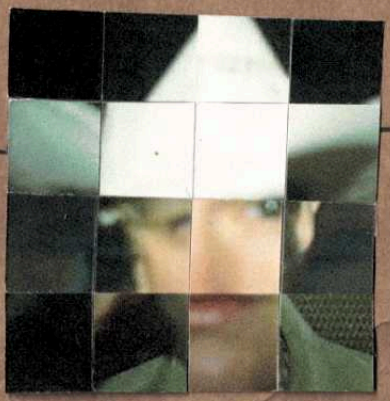
sorry ...

sb[a]led_by_wednesday_jpg

irlg_[with]_ifsh_by_feeble_little_horse.jpg

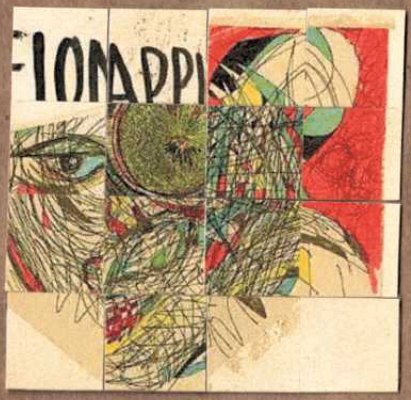
dri_[of]_em_by_pj_harvey.jpg

[e]tirhe[/]_[or]_by_elliot_smith.jpg

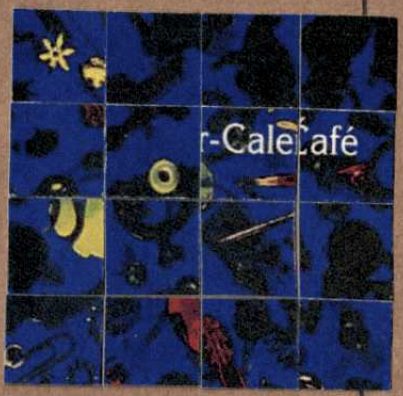


rbgihti_tUurfe_by_adrianne_lenker.jpg

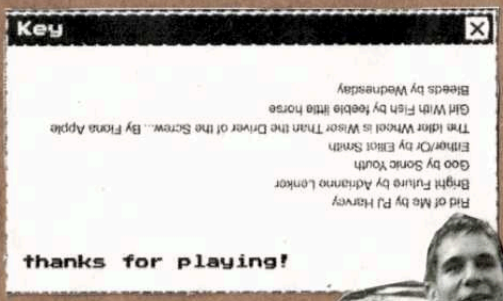
oOg_by_sonic_youth.jpg



teh_fidelr_wheel_si_wries_than_eth_dirver_fo_het_screw_and_the_whipping_cross_will_serve_you_more_than_ropes_will_ever_do_by_fiona_apple.jpg



rofu_Crlenaad_cafe_by_the_cocteau_twins.jpg



Key
Rid of Me by PJ Harvey
Bright Future by Adrianne Lenker
Goo by Sonic Youth
Ethnic/Cr by Elliot Smith
The Idiot Wheel is Wiser Than the Driver of the Screw... By Fiona Apple Girl With Fish by feeble little horse Bleeds by Wednesday
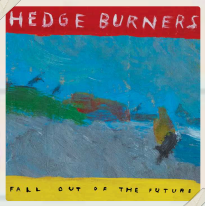
thanks for playing!

by Trinity Archer

MUSIC ON THE AVE

Cafe Allegro- First Album x Miss Kitten

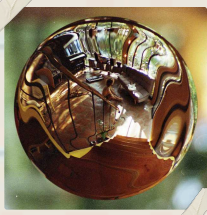


George Coffee & Pastries - Mr. Roboto x Styx

George Coffee & Pastries - Mike and Melissa x Mouseatouille

George Coffee & Pastries- Fall Out Of The Future x Hedge Burners

Elixir - Pretty Thing x Stello



Ancient Gate Coffee - US x FKJ

Snooze Cafe - I'm the Problem x Morgan Wallen

Ugly Mug - I Touch Roses x Book of Love

Ugly Mug- Human Nature x Michael Jackson

Bulldog News - Sabora A Mí x Los Panchos

Bulldog News- Flawless Execution x Pierce the Veil

Bulldog News- Dream Sequence x Jane Remover

Cafe Solstice - Blue Monday x New Order

Cafe Solstice - Ride x Lana Del Ray

coffee?

coffee.

Avole - Show Me Love x Robin S

Costa's - Fingerprints x Hybrid Minds

Leon Coffee House - Ya Te Olvidé x Rocío Dúrcal

Sip House - Talk Down x Dijon

Sip House - Days x Ravyn Lenae

Sip House - King of Everything x Dominic Fike

Sip House - Treasure In The Hills x Leon Thomas

Guest Check

ICED COFFEE + A SMILE

Scorpio Cafe -

An Evening with

Silk Sonic x Silk Sonic

Lune Cafe - Track 10 x Charlie XCX

Cafe on the Ave - Pienso En Tu Mirá x Rosalía

STORYTELLING THROUGH SONG

What's an album that would be perfect if you removed one song from the track list? What song would you remove?

Arcade Fire's The Suburbs. A fantastic album, with a constant, melancholic theme and sound, but the song "Month of May" smack-dab in the middle sounds like nothing else on the album and is just so out of left field, you can't help but wonder, "Why was this even on this album?" — Sebastian S.

What's a song that you associate with a specific memory?

"The One" by Luke Alessi & Chloe Caillet. I remember landing in Australia by myself and immediately going to a block party and meeting these random Australians in the elevator. They told me to join them, and we had some cool conversation before they said to come to one of the stages where Luke Alessi was going back-to-back with Chloe Caillet. They played that song and I tried to find it for the longest time before I realized it was unreleased. — DUCKSALAD

What are your favorite songs that share the same name? What makes them notably different?

"To the End" by Blur & My Chemical Romance. Blur's song pays homage to the French New Wave film "Last Year at Marienbad," while the MCR song is loosely based on the 20th-century Southern Gothic short story, "A Rose for Emily." Blur's song is a slow love song about falling in and out of love, while the MCR one is loud, passionate, and about a man crashing a wedding on his way to killing 1,000 men to get back to his wife. I think the core difference of the songs and their influences stems from how passionate you are about your love; is it something you would kill for, or are you willing to let it leave you? — Rosario

What's a song that makes you think of a loved one and why? Which loved one?

"Daughter" by Pearl Jam reminds me of my father. I remember him singing this song to my sister and I and talking about how Eddie Vedder is one of the greatest vocalists of all time. Grunge music just gives me so much nostalgia as someone who grew up in the PNW. It was the soundtrack to my childhood. — Athenarox

What's your most niche song recommendation, and how did you find it?

"Snowcicle" by Poole. My dad used to work at a record label and gave me an MP3 player loaded with at least 100 hours of music. Still haven't listened to every track, but there were a ton of hidden gems. — Maile

What's an artist and song that got you into listening to music more intentionally?

"Choctaw Hayride" by Alison Krauss & Union Station. My brother and I would go crazy for this song on long road trips. What stood out to me was how there weren't words, so you could clearly hear each instrument for its time to shine. There was a breakdown, and the song overall just took you on a ride. This was when I was in elementary school, and it got me listening to more country.
— DUCKSALAD

"Holy Wars... The Punishment Due" by Megadeth. Sometime between fifth and sixth grade, I hit a phase of being really into nicknames. In true 2010s-child fashion, I consulted an online nickname generator. I punch in my name into the nickname generator and the usuals pop out: "Merry," "Mer." But then I see the most badass name! I've never seen "Megadeth." I looked it up to find out what it came from. It led me to YouTube, where I listened to this song for the first time, and my brain exploded. I totally fell in love with them and ended up listening to their whole discography. I didn't realize that music could sound so intense but also sample classical music. I loved it. I went on to do the usual deep dive of other '80s bands, but my goodness, had I not looked for a nickname that day, who knows where I'd be. — Meredisc

What's an album that completely shifted how you heard an artist you already knew? How did it change your perception?

Tom Misch & Yussef Dayes's What Kinda Music. Tom Misch used to be a lofi-beat tape era musician. His first release, Beat Tape 1, fit perfectly into the beginning of the lofi girl, chill-out era of downtempo music and didn't necessarily push any boundaries. He followed that up with Beat Tape 2 and Geography, two R&B albums that had a cohesive sound. But in 2020, he blew all of that out of the water with one of the most important albums to me of all time, What Kinda Music. It's got a lot of the trademarks of a Tom Misch album: his guitar tone remains mostly unchanged from the other albums, but instead of being accompanied by a drum machine, each song is brought to life with Yussef Dayes on drums. If I could pin all of the music I play on my show, back2mine, to a specific sound, it would be the way Yussef Dayes plays drums. Every single track on the album has the most incredible drumming on it you've ever heard, such complicated rhythms that add a layer of complexity that I hadn't heard on any of Tom's previous records. The level of musicianship was mental, the quality of every instrument on each track blew me away. In retrospect, Tom's introduction of Yussef has almost had a bigger impact, as I feel myself drawn to Yussef's side of the album more and more. — Alessandro earlier in the year, we held a collage night to make posters for rainy dawg. see if you can find them up around campus!

DAWG POSTERS

Listen to RAINY DAWG RADIO!
rainydawg
rainy 50

RAINY Dawg radio live
IN AIR rainydawg.org

rainy radio DAWG
rainydawg.org

fatal RECORDS Like ME!
Poetic ON rainydawg.org

DONT BE A NOW

NOBODY LISTENS TO RAINY DAWG RADIO

KILL AI
NUKE Your algorithm
LISTEN to
FREE ONLINE RADIO
RAINYDAWG.ORG

rainy dawg
RADIO Radiohead WARDROBE LISTEN HERE

rainy dawg
rainydawg.org

NOURISH
The SOUND
rainydawg.org

RAINY DAWG
RADIO JOIN THE REBELLION
rainydawg.org
CORONET

All credit to the original artists
W
SEATTLE SYMBOLS
MADE WITH LOVE BY EMILY VALENTINE AKA EVAL DAWG
pearljam 12
ALICE IN CHAINS HAVE LOVE WILL TRAVEL
The Gits Hole
S>U>B
P<O<P SOUNDGARDEN
PUBLIC MARKET CENTER

Secrets from a girl (whose seen the world)

20 milli ♡

* That guy you met in a backyard at 19 isn't your soulmate, no matter how hard you try

* You can quit that job that makes you miserable

* Pay your parking tickets before you get sent to collections!

* Stop trying to force it, let it come naturally

* Don't get a WAstate fake ID

* Stop going to monkey pub + expecting to find love

* If he has commitment issues, he probably wont end up as your boyfriend. Stop wasting your time

* The more time you put into it, the more it hurts when its over

* You will find your place in the world, or you will create it for yourself.

* Stop hitting the cart all day. You will need your brain at some point

* You will make friends eventually, dont be afraid to make the move to break the ice

HABIBI FUNK

Habibi Funk is a record label from the 70s based in Berlin. It was focused on reissuing Arabic funk and soul music, and bringing these artists accolades in the western world.

Occasionally, these artists turn Armenian folk songs into rock music, which is really nostalgic for me.

Maria reccomends:
Hamid Al-Sharif
Charif Megarbarne

"If you're a European or Western label and you're dealing with non-European artists' music, there's obviously a special responsibility to make sure you don't reproduce historic economic patterns of exploitation, which is the number one thing when it comes to the post-colonial aspect of what we are doing." - Jannis Sturz, owner of Habibi Funk Records

SIBERIAN PUNK

Why Siberia? In the late 80s Soviet Union, rock music was permitted in urban areas, so bands there most likely opted for less controversial rock & roll. But in Siberia, this wasn't the case. Bands couldn't even play rock music, so they didn't even attempt to neutralize their sound, opting for hardcore, aggressive noise. Raging against the worsening conditions of dying empire, they created art in spite of suppression, which we can learn a lot from.

"powerful, dark energy that brought together the worlds of Borges, Kafka and all the anti-utopians... These were songs of destruction, a protest against the whole world." - Lenta, Russian News portal

Maria reccomends:
Yanka Dyagileva
Igor Letov
Grazhdanskaya Oborona

made by liv (of friend's house) :3

diy or die

milkcrate

how did your label start?

I started FHR in early 2021 on discord! I was the designated music distributor for my friend group and picked the name on a whim as an in-joke, & created a discord server for it.

bsdj started in ~2022 or 23. I was doing a lot of stuff with my music alias against realism; mostly through the bsdj discord.. & it got to a point where it was a label in all but name so i decided to formalize it & somehow it's still going, thanks to the support of the whole scene

I started my label out of the frustration from DIY. I was tired of long shipping times & the poor quality that would come out of the labels. So I figured I couldn't complain if I wasn't going to at least try it myself.

what's the coolest thing you've ever made?

CICI: the 2xLP wetdream vinyl! I spent years perfecting the design & I'm so proud of it. LIV: mini-cd w packaging designed as an FHR gamecube game... ft. a "game review" & a low-poly render of the cover art. + we got to work w BSDJ on it! :3

I have absolutely no idea, actually... its a great question, but i really think my coolest thing is whatever is next, or whatever im working on now... i learn by doing & i really think im getting better at stuff as i go the ribbon fix cassette and shirt. The band never had shirts because they spent all their money on CDs and vinyl in the 90s. I made a cigarette case for the cassette and designed it with just shapes and lines until it all looked cohesive.

no one is in DIY for the money. why do you do it?

I preach & believe in DIY because we truly believe in the power of community & group expression. Art & self expression is the antithesis of monetization & capitalism, coming together & supporting all of my friends through all of their endeavors is my true passion in life.

DIY for me is an end in itself, and building for the future. I like making things, and I also wish i had a scene when i was young. if i can help others get what i wish i had when i was coming up then thats what motivates me. (making stuff is fun & building a brighter future for the kids).

This is my full time job. Im not wealthy by any means, but Im just making enough to where I can completely focus on this. But I do it because I want the music to be accessible to the kids it matters to. I put a lot of effort into trying to make my things affordable. Even if it means working harder to keep that momentum going. But the fact I get to also support the bands is great.

what label inspires you?

BSDJ IS THE BEST <3 WE LOVE YOU FOR LIFE #FHRxBSDJ

shout outs to people ive worked with since i started, like oliver glenn, honeysuckle, jean scene, hunk of plastic, friends house who has such an amazing community-based label thing going that i really admire, deapfthpop, milkcrate and self versed records

I just found a new labelJapan called First fall's fall, and they are making incredible cassettes and are doing it all by hand. I love seeing people do things that no one else is doing. I can be a little competitive, but in a way that just makes me want to continuously improve myself

-friend's house records

-BSDJ

-milkcrate

PAPER DOLL PARTS dress your very own paper doll!

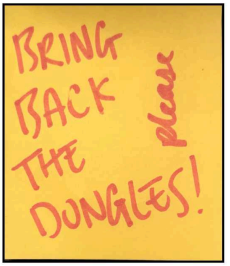
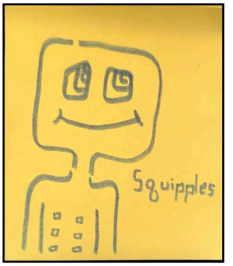
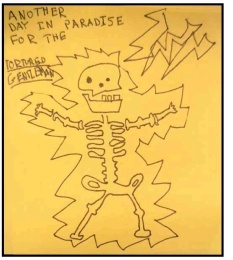
make your paper doll!

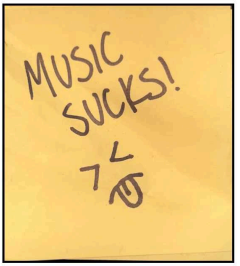
(with some poorly photoshopped clothes)

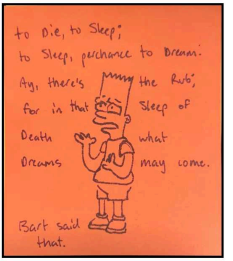
STUDIO GRAFFITI

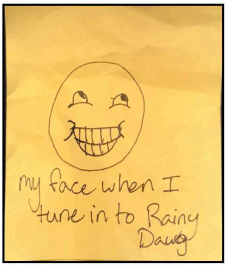


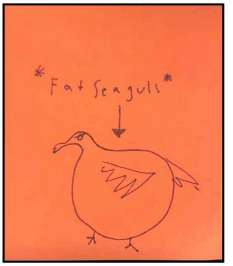


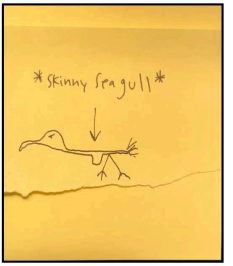












How to Disco:

Even After It's All Gotten Away From You,

First of all It's easy to believe it's all gotten away from you, but really things are the same as they were before I thought it all got away from me but really I'm just graduating.
Sometimes it feels like I'm the first person to graduate college because I believe in Solipsism. Just kidding.
Have you guys noticed that little cardboard cutout of a green man smoking a cigarette in the studio?
That's the previous Tech Manager
That's what one year of Discord stream support does to a regular human being Think twice the next time you tell Brendan the stream is down, Okay?
Speaking of:
Does anyone reading this remember the Justin Bieber cardboard cut out we used to have? We hung him upside-down from the ceiling tiles, like Mussollini Ha ha...
How'd you let it all get away from you anyways? Something you did?
Something you didn't do?
Ah well... it's all the same
At least you have your college radio show
You'll always have one hour a week
And I'll be there to listen too
Speaking of:
Listen to that Bernard Edwards bass line
Wow.
I love this song
and Rainy Dawg Radio to death
Goodbye, Rainy Dawg Radio
Goodbye, Zine Reader

To the tune of "He's the Greatest Dancer" by Sister Sledge

Step 1: Left Hand Up

Step 2: Right Hand Up

Step 3: Spin Around

Step 4: Keep Spinning

Step 5: Point To The Right

Step 6: Point To The Left

Final Step: Multiply

```
G:-------------------------------------------------|
D:-----------------------3-5--5-0-----------------|
A:-----5----3-3-3~-345~-5-----------3-3-3-345-------|
E:---3~---3-----------------------------023----| x6
```

See you soon!
Rainy Dawg
HAGS KIT! xo meilee
HAGS :3
-liv <3
see you soon!!
xoxo, Mugdha

RAINY DAWG RADIO

rainydawg.org

@rainydawgradio